a. (continued item)

(1) An inspection was conducted by the Security Division relative to Safety and Security conditions found in the depot. While a copy of the report of the inspection has not been received in this division, it is understood that from tests made for carbon monoxide gas that an unhealthy concentration of such gas exists due to the lack of adequate ventilation in the warehouse. This gas is generated from the operation of gasoline powered materials handling equipment within the warehouse.

(2) The Real Estate and Construction Division has advised that construction work on major projects in the warehouse is to commence early in January. While the presence of construction workers in the building always creates a security problem and hampers the general run of business, no serious interruption to operations is contemplated.

b. Supply Training: (continued item)

The Supply curriculum of the Logistics Support Course has been thoroughly examined and improvements have been made in instructor assignments. The number of individuals making presentations has been reduced from 23 to 12 persons. From this change, it is believed that subject coordination and integration will be enhanced considerably.

A deadline for completion of this extensive analysis has been set for 12 January. From this project, a more accurate reflection of the current dollar value of inventories will be obtained.
